

Voice Recording No. 4:

Person1: "All along- all these days, whenever we used to have arguments and when I used to tell that I would change, you accused me of recording our conversations, right? Now you have this voice recording, right? Hand this over to your lawyer if you want to."

Voice Recording No. 2:

Person2 : "You- you- when did you beat her?"

Person1: "This is something personal between us"

Person2: "How is this personal? This is not personal- not personal at all! You beating her up is not personal. Quarrelling is different; laying hands on someone and beating them up is not personal."

Person1: "Leave all that. Will she come now or not?"

Person2: "No she won't. She won't come."

Person1: "She- I want to talk to her."

Person2: "Once she wakes up and feels like answering the phone, she would. I don't know. Or else, you can come over."

Person1 "Is she sleeping amid all these problems?"

Person2: "Yes! She cried herself to sleep. She told us so many things we never knew all these days. She told us so many things today. Auntie- she was shocked after hearing everything. You- you have used so many words, have hit her even!"

Person1 "Mmhmm, okay okay.."

Person2: "What Mmhmm okay? Are you listening to some story? Please don't play with someone's emotions like this."

Person1: "Uh huh, alright, okay."

Person2: "You are listening to everything coolly like it is some story?"

Person1: "Husband and wife- there could be a thousand things going on between a husband and a wife."

Person2: "Yes, agreed. Couples quarrel, they disagree, it is all fine. But--"

Person1: "There could be a thousand things between us--"

Person2: "Fine, okay. A day or two is--"

Person1: "To talk about this- It is our will, it is our problem. It is a problem concerning me and Ishu."

Person2: "Oh is that so? Fine, I will tell her that you called once she wakes up. She would talk to you if she wants to. Or else you can talk to her about this. If this is something that stayed between you, it is okay. But when this has come this far and she tells her parents what happened all these months--"

Person1 "There can be a thousand things going on between a husband and a wife--":
